MISSION COMPLETED

The restoration of the Congregational Church is complete as the new paint job gleams in the late fall sun. The installation of the green painted shutters completed the effect which is handsome. The church has undergone complete rebuilding in the tower which was reinforced with steel and the front steps were completely rebuilt. The work has proceeded through the summer on the New England colonial classic church.

MATTAPOISETT TOWN NEWS WILL REVIEW STATE BUILDING CODE

The Board of Selectmen will meet with the Building Inspector Jonathan DePina on November 14 to review the State Building Code which goes into effect on January 1, 1975 and which will replace the present Town Building Code. In the interim the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association is attempting to have the effective date delayed until July 1, 1975 in order to work out a smooth transition from local to State edicts but this action may or may not be successful. Because the State Code replaces the Town Building Code including the new Flood Plain Code, the Massachusetts Building Code Committee advises that the Mattapoisett Flood Zone regulations will have to be changed to incorporate such items as minimum elevation into the Zoning By-Law. It is possible other changes will also have to be made and incorporated into the Zoning By-Law.

BOSTON POST CANE INSCRIBED

The Boston Post Cane has been engraved with the name of Mr. Ira Cook of Prospect Road and has been returned to Mr. Cook who is Mattapoisett's eldest citizen.

SELECTMEN SENT COPY OF LIBRARY LETTER

Selectmen have received a copy of a letter dated October 23 sent from M. C. Rosenfield, chairman of the Board of Library Trustees, to Anne LaPlante, librarian. Dr. Rosenfield stated that the Library Board had made an agreement with Mrs. LaPlante, at the time she started, that the Board would re-evalute her position in six months. He stated that the Library Board "will combine and support your activities and will do what we can to bring your budget more into line with that of similar libraries".

has written to the Board of Selectmen that on Tuesday, October 29, the County Commissioners allocated the sum of $5,000.00 for shore protection work consisting of a stone jetty at the easterly channel of the Eel Pond outlet. The money is to be used in conjunction with a similar sum from the town of Mattapoisett together with $10,000 from the Commonwealth. The total cost of the project is estimated by the Mass. D.P.W. at $20,000. Mattapoisett has $4,800 on hand which has been appropriated from previous town meetings.

THANKS FOR REPORT

The Board of Selectmen, in a letter to James A. Hartshorn, Superintendent of Electric Operations of the New Bedford Gas & Edison Light Company, expressed sincere thanks for the excellent report submitted on the Civil Defense Exercise "Beaufort '74". The Selectmen stated that due to the Gas Company's cooperation and that of Mr. Alan Perkins the exercise was extremely successful.

TOWN WILL ACCEPT DREDGED FILL

A copy of an October 25th letter from the Mattapoisett Board of Health to Sheldon Davis of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company has been received by the Board of Selectmen. The letter confirms that the town of Mattapoisett is willing to accept material dredged from the Acushnet River consisting of fine to coarse sand which the Board of Health considers ideally suited for fill cover at the Sanitary Landfill site.

CD REPORT ON "BEAUFORT '74"

The report of Mattapoisett Civil Defense Director Loren Mosher and Assistant Director Paul Kelley of the recent "Beaufort '74" exercise, in which town officials solved problems posed by a theoretical hurricane, was presented to Colonel Beinski, Director of Sector 2A, at a meeting. Copies of the report have also been sent to Louis Saber, state Civil Defense Director; and to Area Director Colonel Loverington. Interest extended as far as New Jersey, where the C.D. Director exchanged information pertaining to how that State would have handled a similar situation.

(The Presto regrets that last week's issue gave the impression that the report would not be submitted.)

FIRE FIGHTING HISTORY

An entire town would turn out for a fire during Colonial times, everyone shouting the alarm to his neighbor who, likely as not, was already shouting the news to the next house.

And, what a sight it was to behold. The heavy engine was dragged through the streets; men appeared with axes, chains, ropes, buckets, saws and other tools which might be handy; animals squealed and bellowed, while impossible numbers of boys scurried about vying with one another to be most in the way.

Not surprisingly, the fire was often not extinguished-particularly if it had made any headway at all.

It may, however, come as some surprise to learn that fire engines were originally used around the second century B.C. They were based on a Greek mechanic's invention of the force pump and, though ingeniously designed, had a bad habit of falling apart when needed the most.

During the Middle Ages, there was at least variety in the methods of fire fighting, if not much practicality. At that time, men alternated between an old standby, the bucket brigade, and the latest innovations: hand squirts and syringes.

A complete set of fire fighting equipment of the 16th centurn consisted of a squirt, three buckets, a sledge hammer and two firehooks for pulling down burning roofs.

In the late 16th century, however, a sturdier fire pump was introduced with moderate success. An engine of the time consisted of a pump mounted in a tub of water on a sledge. The pump handle was worked by two men; a third directed the feeble stream of water issuing from a tube, while the fourth member of the team replenished the water in the tub with a bucket.

By the 1860's, American hand-pumpers were a lot more efficient. But because of the lack of dependable water supplies. it was often necessary to line the engines up so they could pump water to one another in a kind of mechanized water bucket relay. One 19th century fire in New York City required 23 such engines to be connected with more than a mile of hose in order to produce a single stream of water.

To the beloved hand-pumper, time added the steam pumper, drawn by horses, which could throw 750 gallons of water a minute and finally the efficient gasoline or diesel engines and pumps that we are familiar with today.

Share the light

Help the spirit of the season shine with a Christmas Club and a free Flame of Hope candle.

Deck the halls and light the lights. Share the spirit of the holiday season with a free Flame of Hope candle. Made by the mentally retarded in sheltered workshops, the light of these beautiful candles means so much happiness to so many people throughout the year.

We're offering two Christmas Clubs to make you merry. Our Christmas Savings Club pays 5% interest. Your payment is automatically transferred in any even dollar amount, anytime you wish, from your checking account to your club account. Plus you can withdraw anytime and receive the interest earned through the month preceding withdrawal. Or, if you prefer, open a Free 50th Club. You make the first 49 payments and we'll make the 50th. For free.

So come all ye merry gentlemen (and ladies too). Open a Christmas Savings Club or a Free 50th Club at any Plymouth-Home office beginning on October 29th and get your free Flame of Hope holiday candle. Let's share the light this holiday.

Bottom right, a carousel of opponents runs in circles in this merry-go-round as the "Bulldogs keep them running". This imaginative and colorful float brought second prize to the Junior Class.

the following is a brief interpretation of this settlement.

1. The lot existing between the two completed homes must be equally divided between those homes.

2. Four of the remaining lots cannot support a dwelling without a variance from the Board of Health.

3. Any application for a variance from the Board of Health cannot be considered without two weeks advance notice to us.

4. The rest of the land may not be built on.

During this two year period, $1300. was raised and, because of the fine job done by our attorney, Donald Fleming, actual expenses were kept to around $800. Details of these expenses are available to past contributors upon written request.

In the event that something like this should occur in town in the future, we would like to keep the remaining funds in a special account. Prompt action could then be taken, if necessary. Those who do not wish to participate in this manner may, of course, claim the remainder of their contribution. And, by the way, if anyone would like to enlarge this treasury, donations are welcome and may be mailed to Mrs. Granville Trow on North Street.

Without state enforcement of its own laws, the chances of a case like this being handled successfully by any one of us alone is doubtful. Mr. Fleming points out that expenses in this type of case could easily reach or exceed $2500, a sum that makes enforcement of the law by a private individual very impractical, undesirable, and most improbable Hence the formation of a concerned contributing group and, hopefully, a solution

THE UNBRANCHED BANK

NATIONAL BANK OF FAIRHAVEN

75 HUTTLESTON AVE., FAIRHAVEN, MASS., TELEPHONE 999-5681

Some of the world's great banks are unbranched.

Like ours.

Not that we have anything against branches. It's just that most people like us right where we are. And they keep telling us so.

Instead of building branches, we've been building on. Putting it all together in one place. Right here on Route 6 where we're so easy to reach from practically everywhere. And the parking's easy.

Why don't you discover for yourself one of the world's great banks. What a real convenience our unbranched banking is. Either with Big Doc, our 24-hour teller out front. Or at our early-bird, triple-lane drive up window. Or in our main bank during regular hours.

Lots of banking options are yours when you bank with us. We're waiting for you. We want you to discover one of the world's great banks.

Ours.

PTC Seeks Cooperation

On Tuesday, October 29, the members of the Executive Board of the Mattapoisett Parent-Teachers' Club held its first meeting. At that time we developed a list of areas in which we are particularly interested. However, since the Board is intended to represent all the parents of children at Center and Old Hammondtown Schools, we have prepared a questionnaire to help us determine whether our plans for the P.T.C. meet with your approval.

The questionnaire will be given to the parents of children at Center School at the time of their teacher conferences this month. It will be sent home with the report cards of students at Old Hammondtown.

The P.T.C. Executive Board would be most grateful for your cooperation in filling in the requested information and returning the forms to school with your children. It is only through the combined efforts of Administrators, Principals, Teachers and ALL Parents that our children will receive the best education possible.

We dare to show you the inside story.

Most other organ manufacturers don't like to show you the most important part—the inside. But look inside a Yamaha Electone and you'll be convinced of the quality of the fully transistorized circuitry. It's logically laid out with the wires of each circuit grouped together. The circuit bundles are free-hanging, just like in a computer. That's the kind of planning, the kind of quality that makes a difference. After all, that's where the music comes from. JUVENILE JUSTICE: LIVES IN THE BALANCE

The League of Women Voters of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Bar Association and the Massachusetts Council for Public Justice are sponsoring a conference on the major issues of juvenile justice to be held November 21 from 9 A.M. to 3 P.M. at John Hancock Hall in Boston. Marion Wright Edelman, Director of the Children's Defense Fund of the Washington Research Project, will give the keynote address.

Morning and afternoon panel discussions will trace the child in trouble from the first contact with the law through the disposition of his case. Participants include two Juvenile Court Justices, a policeman, two attorneys, a probation officer, and the commissioners of the Department of Youth Services. There will be questions from the audience.

The Marion Area League of Women Voters encourages you to take advantage of this unique opportunity to explore the strengths and weaknesses of our present juvenile justice system, and to determine ways in which individuals and organizations can

8 O.R. Students to Perform

The Massachusetts Music Educators Association held auditions for the Southeastern District High School Music Festival in Bourne on October 15. Eight Old Rochester Regional High School musicians were chosen to perform in the Festival. Those chosen for the orchestra are: Elizabeth Langevin, violin; Dori Ripple, string bass; Melanie Walak, flute; Kim Knight, orchestra. Accepted into the Festival Band are: Deborah Gordon, flute; Hannah Clark, trombone; Karen Buckley, trombone.

Sarah Woodcock, soprano voice, was accepted into the Festival Chorus. Of these students, those with audition scores good enough to be accepted to audition for the All State Festival are: Hannah Clark, Kim Knight, Deborah Gordon, Melanie Walak, Sarah Woodcock, Elizabeth Langevin and Dori Ripple.

The Southeastern District High School Music Festival will be held in Attleboro on January 17 and 18.

FISH Activities

Mrs. Joseph Holt and Mrs. Lee Greenaway were selected to be co-chairmen for the Mattapoisett FISH at the recent coffee hour. There was a fine turnout of volunteers, which pleased Mrs. Holt, since many of the townspeople have had the impression that FISH no longer existed in Mattapoisett. WE'RE HERE!!! waiting to serve anyone who needs us, when the need arises.

The Meals-On-Wheels program is a fine success and running smoothly, and a letter from Mrs. Gloria Rounds was read at the meeting thanking FISH for its cooperation. Many elderly shut-ins in town benefit from this service.

It was also noted at the meeting that in September 14 calls were received for a service from FISH and 16 for the month of October.

Anyone who wishes to join FISH can contact Mrs. Holt or Mrs. Greenaway. Volunteers can always be used for baby sitting, transportation or providing a family with a meal in emergency, or just to stand by for one day out of a month, to take emergency FISH phone calls. THANK YOU!

I offer my congratulations to Charles MacKenzie for retaining his seat in the 7th Plymouth District.

To my supporters, and all the people within the District who made election day one to remember: I could never express my deep appreciation for the hard work and dedication you gave me during the months of the campaign. I hoped that I would have had the opportunity to justify your loyalty to me by winning the election ... but losing only strengthens my devotion to you.

I will continue to walk our District and try to thank as many people as possible ... I have enjoyed this campaign ... meeting you, discussing your problems and understanding your feelings. Two years is not a long time ... and 1976 is another year for us!

ing them inside the Rochester 20 in four plays, but the drive stalled when Rochester linebacker Mark Tourinho intercepted a stray MacDonald pass.

Moments later, on Rochester's first play of the game, quarterback Steve Hathaway spotted speedster Paul Mott racing down the right sideline and hit him with a perfectly thrown aerial to stake the Memorial School to an early 6-0 advantage.

Later in the half, alternate quarterback Paul Tinkham drove the Mattapoisett nine inside the Memorial School 20. The Rochester squad, outsized at nearly every position, was never outclassed, and turned in another sterling defensive effort when Jimmy Saunders picked off a second Mattapoisett pass.

It was midway through the second period that Steve Carvalho turned a big break for Mattapoisett. The shifty defensive safety intercepted a Hathaway pass, returning it all the way to the Rochester eight. On the next play, Carvalho swept left end for the score. MacDonald connected with Billy Quinlan for the extra point, and Old Hammondtown led 8-6.

But Rochester was not to be outdone. In six plays, quarterback Hathaway directed his charges inside the Mattapoisett 15. There, heroic defensive efforts by linebacker Paul Bettencourt and defensive linemen Bruce Heaton and Duncan MacDonald stalled the drive and returned the ball to Old Hammondtown on their own 12.

Paul Tinkham took charge of the offense. In four plays he moved the ball down to the Memorial 10. Bill "The Quilt" Quinlan then wove a pattern around right end and rolled in for the score. The extra point attempt failed, but Mattapoisett led 14-6.

In the final two minutes of play the explosive Memorial School quarterback turned a broken play into a sixty-yard touchdown scamper that nearly turned the game around, but to the disappointment of the Rochester squad, an offsides penalty nullified the score. The game ended moments later and the partisan Mattapoisett crowd howled with delight.

In addition to those mentioned, oustanding efforts for Rochester were turned in by defensive lineman Eric Enroth and Eugene Bourgault, who repeatedly slowed the Mattapoisett offense with timely "tackles". For Mattapoisett, Robert Hillman, who anchored the offensive line, and running backs Ken Fay and Tim Lanagan, each registered superior performances.

The game was an offshoot of the Monday Sports Program, run after school free of

Children's Museum Events

On Friday, November 15, the Children's Museum film series at the Dartmouth Middle School on Hawthorn Street offers 3 films depicting various phases of North American Indian culture. "Circle of the Sun" captures on film an ancient ceremony of the Blood Indians of Alberta. "The Loon's Necklace" is an Indian legend that explains the white band around the black neck of the loon. "The Longhouse People" shows the life and religious ceremonies of the Iroquois Indians. The program begins at 7:30 P.M. and a small donation is requested at the door.

In this series of programs the films have been chosen for an adult audience, thus adults and teenagers will derive the most from the film narrations, however, younger children are welcome to attend and are also likely to enjoy the films.

of Westport" by Mrs. Whitridge Katzenbach. The program will begin at 2:30 P.M. in the Museum on Russells Mills Road in Dartmouth and admission is free.

Mrs. Katzenbach, formerly of New Canaan, Conn. and now a resident of Westport, was a founder of the New Canaan Nature Center and is an authority on birds. She has recently returned from Block Island where she aided in the banding of fall migratory birds. Why do birds travel? How do they help us? What can we do to help them? Let's find out. This program, including slides of local birds, should be of interest to all children.

COURSE ON TREES AND SHRUBS

An introductory course for adults, entitled "The Identification of Native Trees and Shrubs", will be offered at Museum Outdoors in North Dartmouth. The course will be taught by Robert Lucas, Director of the Children's Museum in Dartmouth. The class will meet from 2 to 4 P.M. on four Saturday afternoons beginning on Saturday, November 16 (not meeting during the Thanksgiving holidays) and ending on December 14.

Much of the course will be held outdoors so warm clothing and footgear is a prerequisite. The class will be taught how to identify trees and shrubs by leaf type, by twigs and buds, and by type of fruit. The emphasis will be on winter tree and shrub identification which warrants careful observation of the buds and the scars left on the twigs where the leaves were attached. The characteristic shapes of trees, bark texture, and the needles and cones of evergreens will also be examined. Folklore concerning specific trees and shrubs as well as the uses of their wood, fruit, roots, etc. will be discussed.

Course enrollment is limited to 20; for registration or more information please telephone 993-3361. A fee for the course will be charged.

Moliere Classic Comedy

The SMU Theatre Company will present its second production of the season, "Scapin", on Friday and Saturday, November 15 and 16, at 8:00 P.M. in the Southeastern Massachusetts University Auditorium.

The play, directed by Angus Bailey, is a zany farce adapted from Moliere's longest running classic comedy, "The Knavery of Scapin", now in its three hundredth year. At the moment it is the only show that is selling out on Broadway, as it did for the preceding two years in London's West End.

In the cast are: Paul Graham, Ross Martin, Tony Ferreira, Peter Richey, Miguel Botelho, Marcelle Gauvin, Kim Murdock, Mick McNamara, Sally Jones, Mark Lawrence and Buddy Endler.

Future plays by the SMU Theatre Company are: "Vermeer 38" in December, "An Evening with Pinter" in February, "Idiot's Delight" in March, and "Seesaw" in May.

Season subscriptions are still available for the remaining performances by contacting the SMU Theatre Company office.

EXHIBITION AT SMU EXTENDED

The current exhibition at the Southeastern Massachusetts University Art Gallery - "Cape Cod Gravestones, a Loan Exhibition of Rubbings from Heritage Plantation of Sandwich, Mass." - will be extended one week to November 22 due to interest displayed in the collection.

The gallery hours are from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M. weekdays and from 2 to 5 P.M. on Friday, Saturdays and Sundays. The exhibition, organized by Dr. Evan Firestone of the University's Department of Art History, spans a one hundred and fifty year period, beginning in the 1680's. The rubbings display a wide variety of images, symbols and styles, and trace in general the development of Anglo-America's oldest sculptural art.

The rubbings are the result of a project undertaken by Cape Cod Community College students enrolled in Dr. Firestone's summer course, The American Folk Art Tradition, held at Heritage Plantation of Sandwich. The project attempted to make a complete inventory of Cape Cod gravestones, and the rubbings seen in the exhibition represent some of the more notable stones located in the process.

BUZZARDS BAY AT THE BOURNE BRIDGE

FOR SMALLER GROUPS—our complete Turkey or Roast Beef dinners will be served from 12 to 4 P.M. Reservations are requested but not required.

It all began, of course, with the actual concert, followed by its taping by Pierre Paquin, a member of the faculty at Fairhaven High School, who has done much in the way of recording classical music. The actual making of the disc and cover are now completed. Church organizations and individuals have made the initial investment in order to push the project to a successful conclusion.

Y.W.C.A. Event

Mrs. Grace Young, program director at the New Bedford YWCA, who will have returned from attending a six-week International Consultation of YWCA staff and volunteer leaders from Asia, Africa, Latin America and the United States, will report on this consultation which focused on "Women - A Power for Change" at the YWCA's annual membership meeting Thursday, November 21, called for 7 P.M. The seminar in which Mrs. Young participated traveled to Greenwich, Conn., New York City, Washington, D.C., and San Francisco, studying programming in urban, rural and government centers. The seminar concluded with a five-day wrap-up and evaluation in the San Francisco area.
